Non-GAAP Measures

Generally, a non-GAAP financial measure is a numerical measure of a company's performance, financial position or cash flows that either excludes or includes amounts that are not normally excluded or included in the most directly comparable measure calculated and presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

In this presentation we refer to EBITDA, EBITDA margin, and a debt/EBITDA ratio, which are not defined by U.S. GAAP. We define EBITDA as net income before interest expense, income tax expense and depreciation and amortization. EBITDA margin is calculated by dividing EBITDA by Revenue for the period. We define the debt/EBITDA ratio as total debt divided by the trailing twelve months EBITDA. We believe EBITDA, EBITDA margin, and debt/EBITDA to be relevant and useful information to our investors because they provide additional information in assessing our financial operating results. Our management uses EBITDA in evaluating our operating performance, our ability to service debt and our ability to fund capital expenditures. However, EBITDA has certain limitations in that it does not reflect the impact of certain expenses on our consolidated statements of income, including interest expense, which is a necessary element of our costs because we have borrowed money in order to finance our operations, income tax expense, which is a necessary element of our costs because taxes are imposed by law, and depreciation and amortization, which is a necessary element of our costs because we use capital assets to generate income. EBITDA, EBITDA margin, and debt/EBITDA should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for, or superior to, operating income, net income, net income margin, debt/net income or other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Furthermore, our definition of EBITDA may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies. Please see slide 17 for the reconciliation of all non-GAAP measures to the most directly comparable U.S. GAAP measures.
